DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

In claim 1, lines 13-14, “encapsulated water-tightly in a carrier open at the top” is generally unclear and not fully understood. How can it be both watertight and open from the top, since it would seem an opening would allow water to enter?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-6 and 9-12, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by German Patent DE19745149 A1 ('149). As shown in figure 3, and external door handle is provided including U-shaped shell 28 serving as a watertight carrier for electronic components 30. A C-shaped front strip 29 is provided as claimed. Toothed recesses and projections are provided to receive ends of 29 in snap-fitting engagement by means of lateral sliding, as claimed.

Element 29 is considered a decorative cover. Material of the container can be hard plastic.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 7 and 8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 6/30/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In regard to the above 112 rejection, applicant argues that device becomes watertight once a potting compound is applied. However, such limitation is not found in the claim language, and since the claims are required to stand alone, the claim is still considered indefinite with respect to the watertight limitation.

(Perhaps language referencing this potting compound should be included in the claims.)

Applicant argues that the particular design of the claimed invention allows for a strong and resilient door handle by engagement across the U-shaped shell. It is the position of the examiner that such subject matter has not been sufficiently claimed to overcome the applied art of record.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
